The illustration depicts a brown beaver with a light-colored belly, sitting on a green grassy hill and looking upwards with its arms raised. Floating in the air around the beaver are various green vegetables, including heads of lettuce, bell peppers, and broccoli, along with several small green leaves. The scene is framed by two large, detailed trees with brown trunks and green foliage on either side. The background is a plain, light beige color.

A watercolor illustration of a light brown rabbit with large, upright ears and whiskers, peeking out from behind a large green leaf. The background is filled with various garden elements: a tall yellow flower on the left, several pink bell-shaped flowers at the top, and various green leaves and stems. Small red ladybugs are scattered throughout the scene, including one on a leaf in the bottom left and another on a green leaf on the right.
